Advent -- A Quick Look Back

Though Advent is now just a speck in our rear-view mirrors, along with eggnog and gingerbread cookies, I found myself reflecting the last few days on the quality of my Advent this year. Each year, I try to find something that will stimulate my understanding and participation in Advent. Sometimes, I get caught unprepared for the season and grasp whatever is available to me as Advent begins, and I end up a little disappointed in my spiritual growth that season.

This year I planned a two-track approach. I decided that I would do Matthew Kelly's daily reflections and supplement that with the daily offerings presented on the "Hallow" app. I think Matthew Kelly fits a previously under-served population in the Catholic Church -- the common man. I have read many of his books each well-written and practical -- with topics we can wrap our brains around. His focus this Advent was to find personal joy in preparing for the birth of the child Jesus.

I have over several years leaned on Kelly's reflections and those of Bishop Robert Barron to help me through Advent. But this year, I wanted a bit more, so I followed the Hallow app, which calls for a greater daily time commitment, with the promise of a deeper look into ourselves. Thus, we receive a better chance for spiritual fulfillment. This Advent the focus was on a 50-year old book called "A Severe Mercy" by Sheldon Vanauken. And though it was not a story specifically about Advent or Christmas, it was a story about love of God -- a topic relevant at any point in a year, but especially as we approach Christmas or Easter.

The book focuses on the intense courtship and marriage of Sheldon to his wife Davy. They had an intense love for each other in which they agreed to share everything with each other -- books they read, music they listened to, the way they were to live and to top it off, they agreed to take their own lives should the other die young. They called their agreement "The Shining Barrier."

"We raised the Shining Barrier against creeping separateness, which was, in the last analysis, self... above all, we would be us-centered, not self-centered."

Without going into too much detail on the story, the bottom line for Sheldon was that he had to endure Davy's death to eventually realize that the "us-centered" love he had for Davy prevented him from having a God-centered love. As I worked my way through Advent, I found that I needed to express the joy Matthew Kelly was encouraging along with the need to stay God-centered through the season. Those needs were brought together at the candlelight adoration hour we held at St. Joe's just five days before Christmas. My two-track approach to Advent evolved into a three-track fulfillment of a successful season. I hope others were just as fulfilled.

("Hallow" offers a free-trial period, if anyone would like to try it out come Lent, which by the way, is only seven weeks away.)

Stewardship for Saints and Scholars

To date, our parish has raised $856,314.00 toward our target of $1,260,000.00.

Next weekend marks the near end of our parish's participation in the Stewardship for Saints and Scholars campaign. During all Masses next weekend, we will invite those who have not yet had an opportunity to participate in the campaign, to join our success. Further, we want to say thank you to everyone who has already made a commitment to this important effort. Together, we are helping secure the future of the saints and scholars diocesan wide. We ask anyone who has yet to make a campaign commitment to consider, pray, and contribute during next week's commitment weekend. Every gift makes a difference!

Our Sunday Visitor

Each week a generous donation from our local St. Vincent DePaul Society covers the cost of the Our Sunday Visitor now in magazine form for our parish. Some Adult Formation Opportunities to Look Forward to in 2025

A partial sneak peek at what lies ahead

- ◆ Lent (dates TBD): Forgiven: The Transforming Power of Confession. This three-week parish group study will help us grow in our appreciation of this great sacrament of God's mercy.
- ◆ April 26, 2025: The Catholic Biblical School of Michigan will present Journey with the Apostles at our parish. This half-day retreat will provide inspiration for us in our own unique mission as a Christian after encountering Our Risen Lord on Easter.
- ◆ Late Spring/Summer (dates TBD): Understanding Catholic Historical Controversies series. We will be tackling some of the most questioned and controversial topics in the history of the Church, including: the Crusades, the Inquisition, the Native Missions, the Galileo Affair, and Pope Pius XII and the Holocaust. Helpful for a variety of people, from those curious about Catholicism to those seeking to better navigate these tricky topics when they come up.
- ◆ June 21, 2025: A Diocesan-wide Mass and Eucharistic Procession will be held in Lansing. 6,000 people participated in a similar event in 2018; you will not want to miss this powerful experience.

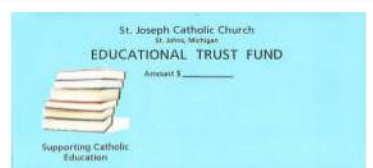

And more! Watch the bulletin for additional information about these and other opportunities to grow in your faith.

Traveling Chalice for Vocations

If you love the Catholic faith and want to contribute in a meaningful way, please pray for vocations. The Knights of Columbus has provided a traveling chalice that you can take home for a week of daily prayers. The Chalice is located on a table by the ramp entrance. Simply sign up for the week that you want, and the Chalice, as well as suggested prayers, are yours for that week.
