Eucharistic Adoration

"Jesus said, 'It is written: 'You shall worship the Lord, your God, and Him alone shall you serve.'" (Luke 4:8)

Setting aside the time for Sunday Mass and daily prayer, along with things such as weekday Mass, Eucharistic Adoration, and serving others, requires us to prioritize what is most important to us. Often, making the time requires us to remove the things of lesser importance that can creep in and occupy our schedules.

This Lent, what can we remove from our daily schedules that will allow us more time to spend with Our Lord?.

WE ARE ALL EVANGELIZERS

(and whatever else is on Deacon Eric's mind)

Turning Nothing into Something

When I sat down at the computer today to write this column, I stared at a blank page. This was appropriate for the moment because it marked a reflection of what was on my mind. When one puts in the title of one's church bulletin column "and whatever else is on Deacon Eric's mind" the expectation would be that there would be something on that fella's {sic} mind. Occasionally it may be mindless drivel -- but at least there's some drivel on that mind.

Well the truth is I will be out of state for several days between the time this is written and the time it is read. Since I did not adequately plan for what I need to take on this quick trip or generally prepare for it, my mind is more on getting things done for something I do once a year (Detroit Tiger Spring Training) instead of something I do every week of the year (write this column). As I'm setting the stage here, the Holy Spirit is reminding me that while I am writing this in the penultimate (I don't think I have ever written that word before) day before Lent, it won't be read until the First Sunday in Lent which features one of my favorite stories from Luke's Gospel.

Though Matthew and Mark also present us with Jesus going out in the desert for 40 days, I like Luke's version the best. Mark only gives us two verses on Jesus' trip to the desert following his baptism in the Jordan. That's not unusual, given that fact that Mark's gospel displays very tight writing and is by far the shortest of the three synoptic gospels. Those two verses of Jesus in the desert serve as a transition from Jesus' baptism to his ministry. Matthew gives an expanded version, detailing the feisty tete-a-tete between the Son of God and the tempter.

Luke's portrayal of the 40 days in the desert is very close to Matthew's, except for a couple specific instances. Matthew uses the word "tempter" to describe Jesus' adversary and we all likely know to whom he is referring, yet I like the fact that Luke leaves no ambiguity while describing Jesus' opponent as "the devil." It's possible that it is just a matter of translation, but if not, Luke leaves no doubt the Lord was facing the top dog in the temptation hierarchy of evil spirits. This was no Wormwood from "The Screwtape Letters" training to be a master of maliciousness.

And the other significant difference between Matthew and Luke is that Matthew tells readers Jesus was hungry after the 40 days, but Luke explains that Jesus did not eat anything during that 40 days. We are hungry if we go a day without eating, Jesus had to be famished when he fought off the devil, who's first temptation was a suggestion that Jesus turn a stone into bread and satisfy his hunger. At his weakest, Jesus remained strong. He is there for us when we are at our weakest. Let's turn our "nothings" into "somethings" this Lent by leaning on the strength of Our Lord.

FORGIVEN Group Study

Sin, guilt, failure, disappointment...these are all an unpleasant but universal reality of the human experience. We all have to deal with them, but we can't do it alone. The remedy is immediately available and miraculously effective---the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Confession isn't a rule, a formality, or an old-fashioned ritual. It's an intimate and life-changing experience of God's mercy. Join us for this three-week study that will look at the revelation of God's mercy in scripture, make an examination of the Rite itself, and allow us to grow a more profound appreciation for this great sacrament in which we experience his indescribable love.

Thursday March 13 at 6:30 p.m. in the parish basement.

The last date will be determined

Parents with one or more students attending Lansing Catholic High School may apply for a parish subsidy grant from St. Joseph Church to help with tuition costs. There are basic requirements to apply and forms are available through the parish office or on our website:
